

Educational Resources

CANADIAN SYMBOLS AT PARLIAMENT

Newfoundland and Labrador – Pitcher Plant

Use your imagination and the clues given in the description below to colour the page.

Newfoundland and Labrador's red pitcher plant was chosen in 1954 as the province's floral emblem. It is called the pitcher plant because part of it can fill with water, like a pitcher. Curious insects fly into the flower, get trapped in the water, and the plant eats them!

